Abstract. The purpose of writing this article is to shed light on the changes that occur in sentences, the formation of negation and absolute negation in Arabic. Analyzing how and in what way it is expressed from the point of view of Arabic linguistics, and the main goal of this work is to show the place of negative charges in the sentence and the places of its application

Key words : negative words, negative prepositions, noun, adjective, number, participle clause, la negative preposition, ma negative preposition, bi preposition, gayrun-negative word, absolute negative

In Arabic, negative words are completely different from negative words in Uzbek. In Uzbek, negative words come after the negative words, and in Arabic, negative prepositions always come before the negative words. Those in the tune of downloads that mean negation

la not, no	لا
not, no ma	ما
lam	لم
lan	لن
kalla	كلا

These prepositions are also used to form negative forms of nouns, adjectives, and verbs. In this article, the two most commonly used of these prepositions are ma ما la لا.

ma negative predicate is used to form the negative form of the past tense verb. for example:

Salim did not come to school.

المدرسة الى سليم وصل ما

Ma vasala Salum ilal maktaba _

In addition, this predicate is also used to negate the participle of a nominal (noun participle in Uzbek) sentence. In this case, if the participle of the noun phrase is represented by a noun phrase, in the accusative case, it is expressed by an adjective phrase. bi ب is in karatkich agreement with its preposition. For example: There is nothing surprising about it.

عجيباً شيئاً فيه ما Ma fixi shay'an ajiban.

Another interesting aspect is that if la comes before the verb, the actions at the end of the verbs do not change in the present future tense. When the imperative negative form of the verb is formed, the last action in the negative imperative form that comes after the negative charge of la is silent. for example:

you write tktb ANTAnta taktubu

Sen yozayapsan انت تكتب Anta taktubu

Another strange thing is that the la negative charge comes with the word "غير" and the meaning of the charge "la" is given as a positive one.

سليم غير هذا يعلم لا

a ya'lamu khaza goyru Salimin .

This only Salim knows .

It would not be wrong to interpret it as nobody knows except Salim.

negative charge sometimes also expresses absolute negation. For example:

لا رجل فيل غرفة la rajula fil gurfati There is no one in the room

لا حول و لا قوة فيه la khawla wa la kuwwata fixi . There is no force and no force in this

The negation case la, which expresses absolute negation, requires that the possessive that comes after it must come in the negative case, i.e., without the article al, in the negative case without negation.

Somehow in scores participle of the sentence part down is lifted . for example that's it la basa لا باس that translation is Never mind What else ? came ?

ما لك ma laka what happened with you?

ما هذا ma haza what is it? _

Ma laka likhazar rajuli ? ما لك لهذا الرجل؟ With this person what do you have a job ma denial download in the sentence look at the meaning again no , it doesn't count translated as _ is worn . Talk about it noun section uncertain in case that is, without the article al revenue in agreement stands two prepositions (fore helper with uncertain in case in agreement stands _

ما هو عدوا ma huwa aduvvan He is not an enemy .

ما هو بعدو ma huwa biaduvvin He is not an enemy .

When the negative preposition من comes with the interrogative predicate, it also means no one, no one, no one, for example.

المسألة ma man vakhidun fassara lana khazikhil mas'alata

Someone should explain this matter to us, and no one should explain this matter to us.

ما اذا ma iza

ma denial download iza a must download with come probability , uncertainty means _

وانها لا تدري ma iza kana yafhamukha
